Biography

Chelsea Hart has been creating art for over 10 years, earning her BA in Visual Studies at Western Kentucky University, and after living in a handful of states, now calls Denver, CO home. She creates murals, paintings, and NFTs that can be described as bold and lighthearted.

Her goal as an artist is to bring joy to her viewers. She finds inspiration in the little things of life, the small moments that are usually taken for granted. She wants to inspire her viewers to find their own small moments they are grateful for and take a happy moment of pause.

She's worked with public art organizations, private collectors, art curators, and local businesses to create art. Chelsea is not afraid to explore different mediums and push herself outside of her creative comfort zone.

Her work has been featured in publications like Colorado Homes and Lifestyle Magazine, Denver Life Magazine, The Denver Post, and 303 Magazine. You can see her work in galleries across the world, in art fairs like Saatchi's "The Other Art Fair", and permanent art collections located in hotels, restaurants, and luxury apartment buildings across the country.
