Biography

Christina Kwan is an Atlanta-based artist known for her abstract works on canvas, paper, and large scale murals. Originally from South Florida, Kwan moved to Atlanta in 2010 after graduating from University of Florida with a BFA in Drawing. A decade and many different career paths later, the work she creates is an ongoing exploration of her Asian-American identity and the internal struggle of feeling incomplete or existing in-between. Christina began painting murals in 2018 and her studio work has been shown in a variety of commercial galleries and academic institutions. Kwan's murals are featured in a diverse range of spaces and span across the country with states including California, Washington, New Jersey, and Texas. Her compositions feature bold and calligraphic brush strokes inspired by her heritage, acting as a yearning for permanence and a search for wholeness.
