Biography

Dan Eller is an emerging Latino artist based in the West Town neighborhood of Chicago. He is gaining recognition for his innovative and interactive approach to art, his work exemplified his belief that art should be more than just something to observe from a distance. He strives to create pieces that people can touch and engage with, fostering a deeper, more personal connection and leaving lasting positive memories. By integrating a modern touch and encouraging hands-on interaction, Eller's art transforms traditional viewing into a dynamic, participatory experience.
