Biography

After training at the Ecole Boulle for five years, Emy known as the artist Emyart's, began her career in drawing as a Jewelry Designer then changed paths and imprinted that of Street Art which turned out to be her true passion. Attracted by the work of the large portrait and in particular that of the gaze, she develops different colored universes inspired by dreams and feminine beauty.

The oil pastel is the work tool she uses most of the time for street art performances. She considers the street as a real workshop where each medium is a source of ideas and creative challenges. In her Collections, she often works around the dream where several elements mix and transform. Her oil pastel technique allows her to create several readings with a transparent effect. Women and felines are recurring subjects in her creations, symbolizing femininity, strength and power for her. The notion of "Renaissance" is also approached in its latest collections in the form of duality with the contrast of cold and warm colors which symbolize the passage from shadow to light and also the presence of symbols such as that of the Phoenix which is reborn from its ashes. The choice of colors as well as the symbolism of the elements represented give his art a "mystical" dimension.
