Biography

Jeff Cason is a designer of nighttime spectaculars and immersive experiences, bringing nearly two decades of expertise to more than 70 projects spanning large-scale shows, immersive exhibits, and digital installations nationwide.

Over the years, he has collaborated with an impressive range of clients—Fortune 500 companies, location-based entertainment venues, museums, municipalities, theaters, and festivals—delivering unforgettable “wow” moments for audiences.

As President and Chief Creative Officer of Jeff Cason Designs, he leads a creative design studio specializing in nighttime spectaculars, immersive live events, and projection-mapped experiences. The studio is known for turnkey production from concept to execution, including projection mapping, animation, story and music development, fireworks design, lighting design, and full show production.

Previously, Jeff served as CEO and Creative Producer at Sound Stage LIVE, where he developed cutting-edge entertainment technologies like immersive projection mapping and mobile interactivity for live theater. He also founded Broadway in the Park, a Los Angeles summer theater festival that drew major sponsors such as Disney, Gensler, Toyota, and Chevron.

Jeff is an active member of the Themed Entertainment Association (TEA), IAAPA, and the World Experience Organization.
