Biography

Tian's practice centers on creating immersive, interactive experiences that transform our perception of the world through sound and light. By inviting participants to become active agents—rather than passive observers, Tian highlights the subtle yet powerful ways we shape and are shaped by our surroundings. Each work harnesses transient elements, such as shifting audio frequencies or illuminated silhouettes, to capture moments of connection between people and place. In doing so, Tian aims to reveal the delicate interplay of presence, memory, and environment, encouraging viewers to reflect on how simple actions can ripple through shared spaces and transform our collective experience.
